THE DAY EVENING, MAR. 14, 18 5

LOCAL MATTERS.

Sun rises to-morrow at 6:05; and sets 5:55. High water 11:04 a. m. and 11:21 p. m.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—For this section partly cloudy weather, possibly with very light snow Friday morning; much cold, or easterly winds; temperature below freezing to-night.

POLICE COURT.—Mayor Strauss presiding. The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Mary Miles, colored, arrested by Officer Webster on suspicion of stealing two rings, had her case continued.

Celia Jackson, colored, arrested by Officers Griffin and Davis for drunken and disorderly conduct, was fined $2.50.

A native of Fairfax, arrested by Officer Griffin for being drunk and disorderly and for assaulting a colored woman, was fined $5.

A native of the same county, who generally gets drunk when in town, arrested by Officers Arrington and Howson for disorderly conduct, was fined $2.00.

Catharine Reynolds, colored, charged with indecent conduct, was fined $5.

A man charged with obstructing a street was dismissed with an admonition.

A tramp was arrested by Officer Griffin for begging and disorderly conduct.

Night Report.—Last night was rainy until about 12 o'clock when it became clear. Four prisoners and twenty soldiers were at the station house.

A DISORDERLY COUNTRYMAN.—A native of Fairfax, to whom a visit to town would be uninteresting if he didn't get drunk, was in the vicinity of the station house last night in a disordered condition and with no particular objective point in view, when he espied an ebony-hued female, an attaché of a work shop and made zig-zag strides toward her. She alleges he undertook to place his arm around her neck, but she being of buxom build, young and sober, got away from him. Officer Griffin appeared on the scene and placed the countryman under arrest. The Mayor fined him $5 this morning.

STEAMBOAT NOTES.—The steamer Arrowhead, belonging to the Washington Steamboat Company, of Washington, D. C., is now undergoing a general overhauling at Clark's shipyard at Baltimore. The tug Juno, owned by Mr. Park Agnew, and commanded by Capt. Matt Kersey, of this city, has just arrived at the works to receive her new steel Scotch boiler, have her machinery generally overhauled, also to have her house and hull repaired and painted. The steamer John E. Tygart, of the Weems Steamboat Company, is also having some repairs made to her machinery.

PERSONAL.—Miss Stuart, of Alexandria, president of the Virginia Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary, is now in Richmond, and will be glad to meet with the ladies of the auxiliaries in this city. On Sunday morning she was at Epiphany chapel, Barton Heights, near Richmond, and gave the ladies an encouraging address. —Southern Churchman.

Alderman Charles Goodrich of the Second ward will be a candidate for measurer of wood and bark at the coming primary election.

A CHANGE IN THE WEATHER.—The weather which had been cloudy, rainy and disagreeable nearly all the week underwent a change about twelve o'clock last night, the wind veering to the northwest. This morning the temperature had fallen somewhat and there was a clear sky. The weather bureau predicts a cold wave for to-night.

CALLING MEETING.—Mayor Strauss has called a meeting of the Board of Aldermen for to-night to consider the ordinance passed by the Common Council on Tuesday night directing suit to be brought to ascertain the city's right to do street work under the 23d section of the city charter.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The intersection of Union and King streets is being paved with Belgian blocks.

The Board of Fire Wardens held a meeting yesterday evening at which some bills were audited and routine business was transacted.

A race horse belonging to Mr. James Bagley which was being unloaded from a car at the local depot this morning fell from the platform, but was not much hurt.

Mr. Louis Brill at the Opera House restaurant is now receiving daily a supply of fine oysters, clams and crabs which he will furnish to families and restaurants.

Mrs. Peyton, the venerable mother of Mr. W. S. Peyton, who for a long number of years has been the agent of the Southern Railway at Rapidan station, yesterday celebrated her ninety-ninth birthday.

Marriage licenses were issued in Washington yesterday to Thomas E. Herrington and Maggie M. Douns, both of Fauquier county, and to Robert E. L. Johnson, of Manassas, and Emma C. Dawson.

Hite Peckham and Billy McMillan were in Washington last night and arranged the details of their sparring contest. The articles call for a contest with five-ounce regulation gloves before any club located within ten miles of Washington offering the largest purse agreeable to both parties.

Rev. R. S. Castleman, rector of the Falls Church and Herndon Episcopal churches, addressed the Brotherhood of St. Andrew chapters of Alexandria and vicinity at Grace Church last night. Despite the inclemency of the weather there was a fair congregation. Mr. Castleman took for his text, "Speak to the children of Israel that they may go forward," and preached a most interesting sermon.

BISHOP JACKSON TO MARRY.—Intelligence was received in Richmond yesterday of the engagement of Bishop H. Melville Jackson, of Alabama, to Miss Catharine Cochran, of Eufla, Ala. It is understood that the marriage will take place very soon after Easter. Miss Cochran is the niece of Gov. Oates, of Alabama. Bishop Jackson was formerly rector of Grace Church, Richmond. His first wife was Miss Lloyd, of this city, and his second was the daughter of Mr. James B. Pace, the well-known capitalist, of Richmond. She died about sixteen months ago.

THE SCHOOLFIELD MEETINGS.

The crowd last night in the M. E. Church South was not so dense as on Tuesday; nevertheless there was a large audience present and it was an appreciative one. The song service commenced at 7:20 o'clock, and after several hymns were sung and prayer offered Mr. Ramsay sang a very beautiful solo entitled, "Jesus will help you," to the delight of all. After another prayer, led by Mr. Schoolfield, he announced the text, "Come unto me," the first three words of the 28th verse of the 11th chapter of Matthew. It was a preliminary call to the unconvinced and for nearly an hour he held the audience as interested listeners. He said the central figure in this world's history is Jesus Christ. The destiny of every one now living or that will ever live is linked with Jesus Christ. What this world is furnishing for is not creed, or theology, but Jesus Christ. Heart religion is what is needed, and it can be obtained first, by doing as the Saviour commands. There are three things necessary in coming to Jesus—first, desire; second, effort, and third, renunciation of sin. A man who desires yet makes no effort, would die in his sins. Every man has a desire to be saved from hell, but does not want to be saved from his sins. We would like to be saved in our sins, and if this were possible every sinner would receive salvation immediately. Not only must we desire, make the effort and renounce our sins, but we must trust. There is a commission, the speaker said, for every one to go out and preach the gospel, and that was the only commission he had to preach. His hearers, he urged, must renounce the world, come to Christ, get on the gospel train, stay there and they would surely land safe in heaven. Some get started on this train and step off for some slight temptation, it may be, but the train goes on and leaves you and you must repent and do your first works over. Religion is fidelity to Christ. It makes one love right because it is right; it makes one hate wrong because it is wrong. Mr. Schoolfield, after saying a man might go through all forms of church worship and still be on the wrong train, said: "Don't think that I have a light esteem for the church; no, no; far be it from me. I believe it is the agency for good, and I know there are many good and loyal Christians in the church and if it were not so, I believe God would blot this world out of existence before morning. Do you know the devil has a gospel. It is to-morrow, put it off, procrastination and his favorite text is, 'Not, not to-night.' Your pride may keep you from coming for fear some one will sneer at you. Let me tell you, sinner, they cannot sneer you out. Salvation is yours. You cannot be half saved and half lost. It means crossing the line, yet the realization is not always coincident. I do not know the day or the week when I passed from death unto life. Sinner, you can do your part now. The invitation was then given and some responded and the congregation was dismissed. All who were interested were invited to remain and many did.

At 10 o'clock, which was again largely attended, Mr. Schoolfield took for his subject the Holy Spirit. He spoke of the disciples waiting for the descent of the Holy Ghost and praying while they waited. Speaking to the church members he said if they did not go to work he would go home, if they expected to accomplish anything it must be through individual exertions.

THE LAND OF FLOWERS.—Last Personally-Conducted Tour of the Season to Florida via Pennsylvania Railroad.

If the general sentiment concerning the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's personally-conducted tours to Florida is to be taken as an index of their popularity, they may in all verity be styled the ideal tours.

The next and last of this season's series of tours to Jacksonville will leave New York and Philadelphia on March 26, and the rate, including round-trip transportation and meals and Pullman berth on special train going, is $50 from New York and $48 from Philadelphia; proportionate rates from other points. Tickets for this tour will be good for return passage on regular trains until May 31. The number of persons for which accommodations can be provided is necessarily limited, and it would therefore be prudent for those who desire to join this party to make early application for space. For further information apply to Ticket Agents, or address Tourist Agent, 1196 Broadway, New York, or Room 411 Broad Street Station, Philadelphia, to whom application for space should also be made.

A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. J. H. Loper, a well-known druggist of Des Moines, Iowa, for over six months. At times the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "I only made three applications of it," he says, "and have since been free from all pain. He now recommends it to persons similarly afflicted. It is for sale by L. Stabler & Co.

SEPARATE SKIRTS, SILK WAISTS.

IN SEPARATE SKIRTS.

The range is from a good All-wool Serge Skirt, with organ-piped back, at $5.00, to one of Crepon at $40.00. This little skirt is as near perfection as high-art tailoring can make it.

IN SILK WAISTS. The range is from our special All silk Waist at $3.75 to the handsomest Waist ever shown in Washington at $35.00.

To-morrow and Saturday Is CHILDREN'S DAY.

And particular attention is asked to every department in the house where Boys', Girls', and Infants' Outings are kept. We plan and buy for these weekly occasions in such a way that we can make prices to suit the most economical. This week's report should interest all parents.

Are the only goods we coax you to buy—they're a business loss that's counted on. Notwithstanding the loss we make just as much preparation for these Remnant sales every Friday as for any other, for we believe what's worth doing is worth doing well. Remnants of Dress Goods, Linens and other piece goods are carefully measured and marked just as they measure. Soiled or crumpled Handkerchiefs, articles of under and outer wear are spread out and ticketed that you may see their exact condition. Thus it is with all remnants, and you buy them as they are and for what they are worth to you. The very low reduced prices we put on them to close them out are not from imaginary values, but from prices that were current but a few hours or days before.

To-morrow each department will abound in money-saving chances. Piles of remnants of the usual character. Special attention to Black and Colored Dress Goods; choice pieces left by this week's steady stream of buyers—skirt lengths, dress lengths, waist lengths, &c.

Scores of other things for both household and personal use are marked to sell quickly.

PLEASE BEAR IN MIND THE FOLLOWING:

It frequently happens that remnants are closed out early, and late comers are disappointed, but first comers must always have the first chance, and they are apt to come early—many of them are here at 8 o'clock, when the store opens. We make this statement that all who read our advertisements may understand that it is out of our power to prevent such disappointments.

GOODS DELIVERED IN ALEXANDRIA.

Woodward & Lothrop, 10th, 11th & F Sts., n. w., WASHINGTON, D. C.

OFFICIAL.

The following was read the second time and laid over Tuesday, March 12, 1895, by the Common Council and the Clerk instructed to have it published in the city papers:

AN ORDINANCE providing for the Inspection of Buildings and Regulating the Construction and Repairing of Buildings within the City Limits.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Alexandria, Virginia, That no person shall construct, alter or repair any building within the city limits, except in conformity with the provisions of this act.

SECTION I.

Foundations.

(a) All buildings costing over $200 hereafter erected shall be of sound materials, of good workmanship, abundantly strong for the purpose intended, and the size of materials used therein shall be such as have been determined by the best authorities; the foundation walls shall rest upon solid ground, concrete or masonry and be built of brick or stone or other incombustible material.

(b) Every basement used for dwelling purposes, wherever the Building Inspector shall deem it necessary to good sanitary conditions, shall have a bed of hydraulic or asphaltum concrete, not less than two inches thick, spread over its entire bottom, or shall be paved with bricks laid in cement, and the walls of such basement below the surface of the ground shall be protected from dampness by a covering of hydraulic cement on the outside.

(c) Every building hereafter erected without a cellar shall have in the walls below the floor level in front and rear not less than two ventilators, each not less than 5x9 inches, and no portion of the woodwork of the floor shall be less than 9 inches from the ground.

SECTION II.

Construction and Dimensions of Walls.

(a) Cellar or basement walls within the reach of tide-water, shall be built in cement-masonry up to the level of spring tides, the bottom course of brickwork must be securely bonded by headers. The bottom course for foundation walls shall be at least 9 inches wider than the thickness of the wall and be bedded in cement.

(b) Sills and party wall shall be anchored at each tier of joints at intervals not exceeding seven feet. The anchors shall be of wrought iron and the plates not less than 8 inches in diameter.

(c) Party walls shall be brought up 6 courses of brick above the roof covering at every part of the roof, and shall be so constructed that the joints from opposite sides shall have at least 4 inches of bearing.

(d) The thickness of brick walls of any building hereafter erected shall not be less than shown in the following table:

BUSINESS HOUSES, MANUFACTURING AND PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

One story..... 13" 9" 9" 9" 9"
Two story..... 17" 13" 9" 9" 9"

Three story..... 21" 17" 13" 9" 9"
Four story..... 25" 21" 17" 13" 9"

SECTION III.

Construction of Chimneys and Flues.

(a) Chimneys shall be built of brick, stone or fire-proof, non-conducting material, the brick work to be laid with solid joints, and the outside of the chimney shall be covered with terra cotta pipe lining is used on the inside, in which case the plastering on the inside shall be such as to prevent the escape of smoke, and the space between the terra cotta pipe lining and the brick work of the flue shall be filled in solidly with mortar.

(b) In no case shall a flue have less than 36" area and the walls of all flues coming against woodwork shall not be less than 8" thick, unless lined with terra cotta pipe, then only 4" shall be required, the same as in other cases.

(c) All smoke flues shall extend at least 4 feet above the roof, if flat, and two feet above the ridge of a pitched roof.

(d) No chimney shall be built upon any floor or wooden beam or bracket, land, where not starting from the foundation, shall have a footing of masonry or iron supported by iron bolts, having a bearing on masonry or iron at both ends.

(e) No chimney shall be corbelled out more than 8 inches from the wall and corbeling shall consist of at least 5 courses of brick.

(f) All flues in party walls shall be kept at least 2 inches from party lines except joint flues, which shall be separated by a 4 inch brick wall all the way up.

(g) All smoke pipes shall be at least 12 inches from either floor or ceiling, unless protected by a shield of non-combustible material, with sufficient space above and below for the circulation of air, when the distance may be reduced to 8 inches.

(h) Wherever a smoke pipe or hot air pipe passes through a wooden partition at an angle it shall be wrapped with a double thickness of asbestos or shall be guarded by a cast-iron or earthenware ring six inches larger than the diameter of the pipe, and wherever such pipe runs inside of and parallel with such partition it shall be so covered with asbestos, and protected by a shield.

(i) No wooden joist, rafter, beam or girder shall be built into any chimney, flue or fire-place and in no case shall any nails be driven into the masonry of any flue.

SECTION IV.

Floor Timbers.

(a) All ends of beams, rafters and joists shall have at least 4 inches bearing and shall be cut on a slope of 3 inches in their depth.

SECTION V.

Construction of Roofs.

(a) No roofs shall be constructed without the rafters being securely anchored to the ceiling joists below.

(b) Every building hereafter erected within the fire limits shall be roofed with non-combustible material, and all roofs of combustible material within the fire limits, when removed, shall be replaced by a non-combustible roof. This section shall only apply to the outside covering of the roof.

(c) Each roof of any building of more than one story in height shall have a scuttle not less than 2x3 feet with a stopladder or flight of steps leading to it.

SECTION VI.

Wooden Buildings.

(a) All wooden buildings used for dwelling purposes, costing over $200, shall be built upon brick or stone foundations.

(b) When a row of three or more frame houses is constructed there shall be a brick or non-combustible division wall of at least 4 inches to extend at least 18" inches above the roof of every alternate house.

SECTION VII.

Dangerous Buildings.

(a) It shall be the duty of the Inspector of Buildings to examine all buildings supposed to be dangerous, and when he has ascertained that any building, chimney or wall has become dangerous to citizens or adjoining property he shall serve a notice upon the
